In addition to the free blood lead screening, East Helena area residents are also eligible for a free Environmental Assessment (EA). An EA identifies lead risks in your home and could include testing paint, dust, soils and water for lead concentrations. The East Helena Lead Education and Assistance Program (LEAP) now has an EPA certified risk assessor who will conduct the assessment and perform the necessary testing. After the assessment, the risk assessor will discuss the measures you can take to remove or reduce the lead risks identified in your home. The EA is a tool to help, you as a parent, reduce your child's lead exposure. If you are interested in having an assessment conducted in your home call the LEAP at 457-8583, to make an appointment.
